Distinguished Research Lecture 247 A Vision for Excellence by Design
Patricia A. Hickey

Pulmonary Critical Care 255 Nurses’ Attitudes and Practices Related to Sedation: A National Survey
Jill L. Guttormson, Linda Chlan, Mary Fran Tracy, Breanna Hetland, and Jay Mandrekar

Pediatric Critical Care 265 Pain in the Pediatric Intensive Care Unit: How and What Are We Doing?
Cynthia M. LaFond, Kirsten S. Hanrahan, Nicole L. Pierce, Yelena Perkhounkova, Elyse L. Laures, and Ann Marie McCarthy

Families in Critical Care 274 Family-Centered Communication and Acute Stress in Israeli Intensive Care Units
Freda DeKeyser Ganz, Gilat Yihye, and Nicole Beckman

On the Cover
Detail from “Last Moments of Sunset”
Lynn Welker
14" x 22"
Mixed media on paper
2018

To view other works by Lynn Welker, visit her website at https://lynnwelker.com

Coming in September . . .
Bass and colleagues evaluate using bispectral index to titrate sedation in patients with acute respiratory distress syndrome who require continuous neuromuscular blocking agents.